Dear Mr. Prieto,

Thank you for your letter. I am sorry about the delay in sending out the royalties for 1946. The truth is that present conditions have been so awful that the accountant has got behind-hand. I will remind him to hurry up with yours in a few days when I see him.

I was lecturing on poetry in Cambridge University two days ago, and when there a number of under-graduates spoke to me, and one mentioned that he was specially interested in Garcia Lorca, and that he had just been meeting an English Poet, Roy Campbell, who is at the moment engaged in translating Garcia Lorca. If the student is correctly informed, I thought you would like to know this, as it might concern you.

All best wishes to your fresh exhibition - you must let us have details. Is it to be in London? - for, if so, we would like to come. I should much like to see your drawings for the new book you propose, though Things are now so expensive and difficult, that I am really getting very worried about everything.

Kindest regards and all best wishes,

Yours sincerely,
J. Johns
